S. T. C. BASKETBALL SEASON OPEN JAN. 11

SCHEDULE FOR 16 BASKETBALL GAMES ARRANGED FOR

OTHER SCHEDULES FIXED

Four Baseball Games, Three Dual Track Meets and State Meet, and Eight Football Games

The basketball schedule for the State Teachers College team for this year was announced this morning by Eugene A. Maynor, the coach, who returned last night from St. Louis where he attended a meeting of the coaches of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association at the Marquette Hotel.

The schedule for track and baseball for the spring were also announced as was next fall's football schedule.

In basketball the Bearcats will play sixteen games, half of which will be played in Maryville. The season proper will begin January 11 when the Bearcats will play the first game of their schedule with William Jewell College at Liberty. The following night they will meet the Missouri Wesleyan quintet at Cameron. Then the week following they will journey to Kirksville and Canton where they will meet Curley McWilliams Teachers and the Culver Stockton basketeers on the 19th and 20th respectively.

The next game will be at home with Warrensburg on January 27 and on February 1 and 2 Coach Maynor's five will go to Springfield to meet the Teachers and the Drury Panthers.

The next five games will be at home. On February 8 Missouri Valley will come. They will be followed by Missouri Wesleyan on February 12 and two days later Kirksville will invade the lair of the Bearcat on a return game.

February 22 and 23, Culver Stockton and Westminster will play in Maryville. The game with Culver Stockton will be a return game.

On February 27 and 28 the two games which the Bearcats, the student body of the College and the citizens of Maryville want to win most of all will be played. On the 27th the Bearcats go to Tarkio and the next night Tarkio comes to Maryville.

Games will probably be scheduled with Cape Girardeau and Central College.

Four baseball games have been scheduled although the dates have not been decided upon. Missouri Valley, Westminster, Central and Tarkio will all be played, according to Maynor.

In track the Bearcats will have three dual meets and the state meet. The dual meets will be with Tarkio and Missouri Wesleyan in Maryville and with William Jewell at Liberty.

The state meet of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held at Tarkio May 17 and 18. Mr. Maynor said today that if a team of tennis players worthy of representing the school develops that he will send them to the meet on the first day.

In football eight games have already been scheduled with an open date on November 23. A Thanksgiving game will be played with Tarkio at Tarkio. The entire schedule follows:

October 5—Missouri Wesleyan at Maryville.

October 12—Culver Stockton at Maryville.

October 19—Kirksville at Maryville.

October 26—Rolla at Rolla.

November 2—Springfield at Maryville.

November 9—Warrensburg at Warrensburg.

November 16—Westminster at Maryville.

November 28—Tarkio at Tarkio.

Five of the games will be played in Maryville. The local fans will get a chance to see Springfield, Missouri Wesleyan and Kirksville, all leading teams of the conference, play.

The eligibility of Edgar L. Messmer, Bearcat tackle of this year, was questioned at the meeting of the coaches of the different teams of the Association Monday night.

Coach Harmon of Central Wesleyan protested Messmer on the grounds that he attended the University of Missouri last year. The protest was overruled, however, when it was found that Messmer was just completing high school work while at Columbia.

It seems that the Warrenton coach, who has an unsuccessful season, thought that he would be credited with at least one victory if Messmer was ruled ineligible.

YOUNG PEOPLE CAN MAKE WORLD SAFE

SAYS SAM JORDAN IN TALK AT THE COLLEGE

QUALITY OF CITIZENS

And Not Quality of the Land, Important Says Missouri's Corn Man

"It is for the young people to make the world safe for Democracy," said Sam Jordan, the "Missouri Corn Man" in an address to the student body of the State Teachers College this morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Jordan is in Maryville as a judge at the Corn Show which is being held in connection with the Poultry Show at the Armory building.

Mr. Jordan was introduced by T. H. Cook of the College faculty. Mr. Cook has known Jordan for a number of years and in his introduction he said that if anyone would come to him after the address and say that he did not enjoy it that he (Mr. Cook) would give that person a half bushel of red apples. The address was quite in line with the introduction and was very pleasing and humorous.

In speaking of it, Harry A. Miller, chairman of the assembly committee, called it a "quaint, half humorous bit."

Mr. Jordan spoke of the young people of today being the factor which will some day make the world safe for Democracy. He pointed out the fact that the older people are always wondering what will become of such a wild generation of young folks and said that the fathers and mothers of these older people were asking the same questions twenty-five years ago.

In reference to the number of persons who occupy the back seats at an address or meeting he said that these people were alright if they would follow leadership but the trouble was that too many will neither lead nor follow.

He said, "They are simply occupying space and there's just lots o. space in this old world that doesn't need to be occupied."

In speaking of the corn of Nodaway County he said that the county had the reputation of producing more corn than any other county in the state of Missouri but not more corn per acre.

He said, "it's not the quality of the land but the quality of the citizens?"

The whole address was interesting and into it a number of rare bits of humor were woven.

The twenty-first annual exhibition of the Northwest Missouri Poultry Association and the Corn Show, was in full swing at the Armory building this afternoon. Sam Jordan is judging the corn this afternoon and Adam Thompson of Amity, Iowa, is picking the winners among the poultry.

The poultry show can be heard as well as seen, and visitors to the show could not miss the building, because of the different cackles, crows and quacks emitting from the Armory. Some mighty fine birds are on exhibition there. The show will keep open evenings until Friday night and no charge is made for the public.

Up to noon today about 900 ears of corn had been entered in the Corn Show. With the exception of one entry, all is yellow corn and the one white corn exhibit of ten ears is from out of the county.

PRELIMINARY WAS SET TODAY FOR DECEMBER 14

Shoemaker Under Name of Harry Pittman and Barbara Pittman Appeared in Johnson's Court.

The preliminary of William Shoemaker, who has been going under the name of Harry Pittman and of Barbara Pittman was postponed this afternoon in Justice of Peace W. L. Johnson's court until Thursday, Dec. 14. Pittman was charged with possession and transporting of intoxicating liquor and violation of the Craig act, this act corresponding to the Mann act in federal courts. Barbara Pittman was charged with possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor. Bail was fixed at $500 for each defendant in the liquor case while bail for violation of the Craig act was fixed at $1,250. Bail has not been given at press time, but efforts will be made to give bail.

W. G. Sawyers represented both defendants in Justice Johnson's court this afternoon. He said Shoemaker after his release from the reform school changed his name to Harry Pittman and has been going under that name since that time. Mr. Sawyers also stated that the woman with Pittman is his wife, the couple having been married on July 3, 1914, by Justice Welch in Kansas City. Mr. Sawyers asked in justice court this afternoon that the real names of the defendants appear in the warrants. Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey said he was contesting the claim that the name of Shoemaker was Pittman.

Simply because he has nothing to say will never keep an argumentative man quiet. (Or a woman either.)

CLARA PHILLIPS STILL AT LARGE

CALIFORNIA MURDERESS NOT LOCATED TODAY

SHE MAY BE IN MEXICO

Authority Running Down Every Clue —Husband Not Connected with Jailbreak but is Held

Los Angeles, Dec. 6 (By William C. Cayce, International News correspondent.)—Hunted by every effort of the officers in Southern California and federal authorities along the Mexican border, Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted of the "hammer murder" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, who escaped yesterday from jail by sawing the bars from her window, is still the "Enigma" woman today, twenty-four hours after her getaway.

Although working continuously on the case, Sheriff W. L. Traeger and his deputies went at the task with renewed vigor today and Traeger felt confident that Mrs. Phillips would be found by night fall.

The possibility of a flight by airplane to some point in Mexico has not been overlooked by authorities. Sheriff Traeger said he had no cause to believe such an escape was used but admitted the possibility that she might have literally "flown" from the city. A check-up will be made at the flying field to see if any planes are missing or if any mysterious journeys were made Monday night.

Under-sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, acting on a tip that she might have left by a fast motor boat for Enconsido, a lower California port, left here early this morning for that port to search for the missing woman. Deputy Nolan was left in charge of the jail.

Armour W. Phillips, husband, for whose love Mrs. Phillips committed the murder, has been found, but failed to give any light on the subject. After explaining his whereabouts Monday and Tuesday, and being found in the office of Attorney Bert Harrington, Mrs. Phillips lawyer, he was released, but later was taken in custody and held.

Phillips said that he retired about 11:30 P. M. Monday night in a downtown hotel and slept until almost noon yesterday.

After leaving his room at the hotel, Phillips said the first he knew of his wife's escape was when he read it in the headlines of a newspaper. After detectives had carefully checked up to the minute, his whereabouts, it was found that they were as he had told them.

The question was raised as to the exact time of Mrs. Phillips' escape. It was pointed out that the matron on duty, did not look into Mrs. Phillip's little steel room after the prisoner had retired about 9 o'clock. It was admitted that she might have escaped about midnight and sandwiched herself in the passing crowd.

Officials are more inclined to think that she headed for Mexico. It is thought more likely that she crossed the border close to Imperial Valley in a less densely populated territory. The theory has been advanced that she might try to make her way to Mexico proper and join relatives, who might come there from Houston, Texas.

Clemenceau and Wilson will meet again, the first time since the Paris Peace Conference. At that conference, these two men, as representatives of two great governments did not hesitate to tell each other "what was what."

MUST LOWER TAXES SAYS SEC. MELLON

ANNUAL REPORT MADE TO CONGRESS TODAY.

CAPITAL IS IN HIDING

Treasury Head Recommends 25% Reduction in Surtax to Increase Taxable Capital.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6—Undaunted by the existing deficit this year in the government's revenue, Secretary of Treasury Mellon in his annual report to Congress today, said that the country did not intend to add to the taxation.

Instead of recommending new taxation for the deficit, Secretary Mellon advocated lowering of the surtax rate on incomes from fifty percent to twenty-five percent, to draw capital from its hiding place and put it to work, thus creating a tax scource for the nation.

"Great Wealth," he pointed out, "is now in tax exempt securities and other fields, and yields the government nothing in taxation. The lowering of this surtax would bring this wealth into the useful fields and make taxable revenue for the government. The report further says:

"This presents a problem which calls for solution, and I believe it can be solved only by relieving on the one hand and the pressure for reducing taxable income, by making further readjustments of the surtax rates, and on the other hand by closing, so far as possible, the existing avenues of escape. To attempt to close the gaps along will not be enough, for the existing rates of surtax cause such heavy pressure for avoidance that new gaps would surely be found. The high rates sound productive, but the fact remains that they are becoming increasingly ineffective and are yielding less and less revenue every year. The time has come to face the facts squarely and to correct the artificial conditions which now prevail."

"This indicates an astounding decline in taxable incomes over $300,000 and clearly reflects the tendency of the high surtaxes to reduce taxable income. In this way the surtaxes are gradually defeating their own purpose and the high rates are becoming ineffective because of the steady disappearance of the taxable incomes to which they were intended to apply. The pressure operates in different ways, but among the means frequently used to reduce the amounts of income subject to taxation are the following:

1. "Deductions of losses on sales of capital assets, with the failure to realize on capital gains;

2. "Exchanges of property and securities so as to avoid taxable gains;

3. "Tax-exempt securities; and

4. "Other avenues of escape, such as the division of property, the creation of trusts, and the like.

Not all these things can be controlled by law or by regulation, and most of them lead to unnatural and frequently harmful economic results. To reach the evil the thing most necessary is the reduction of the surtax rates themselves, in order to reduce the pressure for avoidance and maintain the revenues derived from the surtax. I believe, therefore, that it would be sound policy, and at the same time most helpful to the general situation, to reduce the surtaxes to a maximum of not over 25 per cent, which would mean a combined maximum, including a normal tax and surtax, of not over 33 percent."

A lot of people are jolly and a lot more are jollied.

SIX KILLED WHEN AIRCRAFTS CRASH

FATAL ACCIDENT AT LANGLEY FIELD TODAY.

COLLISION IN MID-AIR

Fokker Plane and Army Bombing Craft Going at Great Speed, Crashes to the Ground.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Six army aviators were killed today at Langley Field, Va., when a Fokker plane collided with an army bombing plane, according to a report made to the army air service here. The report to the service, said that Major Guy L. Gerhardt was flying in a Fokker plane and Captain Benton A. Doyle, with four enlisted men were in the bombing plane.

The planes crashed in mid-air, killing all of the occupants. Captain Doyle and his men, in a practice flight with the bombing plane, were traveling at a great speed when Gerhardt rose directly in the path of the bombing machine. The two planes came together, a resounding crash was heard, and both planes shot to the ground in flames. Paul Rolet, one of the enlisted men, jumped from the plane, but survived only a few minutes. The other men were dead when found.

The officials have ordered an immediate investigation.

MARRIED 50 YEARS AGO: WED AGAIN IN LODGE ROOM

Friends Give Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Lytle Unexpected Surprise at Anniversary in Burlingame, Cal.

The San Francisco, Cal., Chronicle, had the following in last Saturday's issue about the Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Lytle, former residents of Maryville, the Rev. Mr. Lytle having been pastor of the First M. E. Church of this city:

A wife of fifty years, Mrs. Edwin Bell Lytle, whose husband is pastor of Calvary M. E. Church on Nineteenth street, had the rare experience of being "kidnaped" at a golden wedding anniversary, decked out in bridal attire, including a long tulle veil, and remarried before 450 friends last Monday evening. The new bride and groom were surprised by the masters and wardens of the Burlingame Lodge, No. 409 F. and A. M., at their lodge rooms in Burlingame, believing they were to be guests at an informal party.

On arriving Lytle and his wife were promptly separated, dressed for the nuptials and taken into a room banked with flowers and gifts ov every description.

The two children of the couple were present for their parents' "wedding," Miss Hope Lytle standing beside her mother and John Lytle championing his father. E. E. Johnson gave the "bride" away. Rev. W. A. Sherman, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, tied the knot and made the few changes necessary for the unusual ceremony.

A telegram from President Harding and one from Governor Hyde of Missouri congratulated the bridal couple on their golden wedding, little dreaming that they would begin again the first lap of their matrimonial journey.

The "bridegrom" was for many years chaplain of the Burlingame lodge of Masons. He and Mrs. Lytle have lived in California for more than twenty years.

Those who attended the anniversary and wedding represented churches throughout the city and Burlingame. Three-minute speakers were curtailed in their eloquence by a large bell which silenced them. Great banks of flowers, gifts for the bridal couple, a five-layer wedding cake and some excellent music were a few of the high lights at the unique party.

Rev. Lytle and his "bride" will continue to live at 1265 Eighteenth avenue, and no plans have been made as yet for a honeymoon. He is 70 years of age and his wife is two years his junior.

With the purchase of a DURANT or STAR automobile, there goes a feeling of personal interest on our part.

At our request, Rev. Walker of Sheridan, drove his Durant Four in yesterday for its first inspection. Ed checked it all over carefully and found it in splendid condition. We will ask him to come again in a few weeks. That is a part of the service that goes with our sales. Some time it may need some adjustment of importance that he might not discover. Our mechanic who specializes on the cars we sell, can not only locate them, but can make such adjustments quickly and efficiently. And, by the way, we want to emphasize that word "quickly," because that is a special feature on the DURANT line. That is why you will find the re-sale value of them so high—it is the accessibility of the various parts. An inspection of it will prove this assertion.

C. A. HAWKINS WRITES IN MEMORY OF MRS. L. D. COOK

C. A. Hawkins, instructor of Latin at the College, has written the following in memory of Mrs. L. D. Cook, who died about two weeks ago. Mrs. Cook was well known here having lived in Nodaway County forty-eight years.

In Memoriam

Now that Mrs. L. D. Cook has gone from us, my feelings prompt me to say these last words concerning her. As a barefoot urchin I knew Mrs. Cook while she was on the morning side of life, and, if at this distant day I interpret my childhood feelings correctly, I thought that she was old. As a country school teacher, I taught school only a few paces from her door. I saw her often. I visited in her home. I received and appreciated her kindly welcome. Still I thought her old. During the last several years of her life, I saw her almost daily sitting at her window, or on the porch of her modest cottage, and always she seemed old to me. It is the way of life. We measure it relatively. I suppose if she could speak to-day, she would say that I was always young to her, and thoughtless and unappreciative, perhaps. But during her life she never gave me that impression. I felt the welcome that she extended, not from what she said when I entered her home, but from the kindliness of her face and the frendliness of her silent greeting.

While her children—they were always children to her—will feel a lonesomeness in their lives, now that she is gone, I too shall miss her. And I am led to ask "What did this woman exemplify in her life?"

Simplicity. First, and most impressively this characteristic of her comes to me. Her life was simple. The basic principles of all her thoughts and acts were honestly, uprightness, and goodness. These were the cardinal virtues she required of her friends. Sham, however attractively garbed, she would not allow. She did not think it best to carry on a crusade against it, but she let the portcullis of her heart fall before it.

Resoluteness. This was written in her face. It was not sternness, for nothing was further from her life than this. It was rather the immoveableness of the light-crested crag that stands unconscious of the petty waves in their spiteful dashings against it.

Love. Love of home, love of family, love of friends, love of God—these were the supreme characteristice of her life. She loved her home, and though a lowly home it was, she made it a good place to be. She loved her family, and the sorrow of those strong men and women at their leave-taking speaks eloquently of that love, and of their reciprocal love. She loved her friends, and she opened the sanctuary of her heart to them. And she crowned all these loves with the love of her Creator, which in its steadfastness could have been known only by beholding.

These were the impressions she made, and others like her made, upon my life. And to-day I almost instinctively feel that the simple virtues of life are the things chiefly worth while. I know from larger experiences that these virtues are often found in those of much more farreaching influence than was her lot to show. But always the impulse comes to associate the nobler virtues with the less pretentious life.

A humble life was hers to live, and true.
She filled the measure o'er and o'er
With honest efforts; still the store
No diminution knew.
Her lore was usefulness, her art,
In worthy toil to have a part.
She kept the cloister of her heart
A scared shrine.
And there with constancy divine
She burned the taper to the end,
Of love for children, home, and friend.

C. A. Hawkins.

DRESS REHEARSAL FOR CHERRY BLOSSOM TONIGHT

Costumes Have Arrived From New York and Everything Ready for Operetta Tomorrow Night

The costumes for "Miss Cherry Blossom," the operetta to be given by the orchestra of the High School, have arrived from Tams of New York and the final dress rehearsal will be held tonight. Extra ceiling and foot lights have been added to the High School stage, besides other decorations that might add to the success of the play.

The ushering will be in charge of fifteen girls from the glee club. No individual seats will be reserved except a few desks in front, for the girls of the glee club, who will be helping about the stage or ushering.

A special matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon for the grade children at the central building. The presentation tomorrow night will be given at 8 o'clock. Those in charge predict a greater success of "Miss Cherry Blossom," than the play presented last year.

WAR SAVINGS BLANKS ARE NOW AT THE P. O.

Holders of 1918 Stamps Are Requested to Bring Stamps In Now

The blanks for handling the redemption of the war saving stamps have been received at Maryville post office and the postmaster suggests that those who have the stamps bring them to the post office for either exchange to treasury certificates or to have them cashed. The stamps do not mature until January 1, 1923, but they will be taken at the post office and a receipt given for them so that the money may be available to pay for them on the first of the coming month. Unless they are handled in this manner before the first of the year it will necessitate some weeks before the cash will be available for them. If the stamps are not registered they may be handled through the banks in the same manner of receiving a receipt for them and getting the money later.
